Frontiers Health 2026

The original and most well recognized digital health conference for content and connections

Over the years, many game-changing companies have thrived and scaled by leveraging Frontiers Health, and countless fruitful partnerships have taken root at our events.

As we honor our heritage, we have expanded our focus to health equity, policies, bioscience and R&D, innovation strategies and the radically transformative impact of AI.

We remain committed to fostering debate, collaboration, and decisive action to shape the next decade of health innovation. Frontiers Health is, more than ever, the place where innovation meets healthcare and the home of the global health innovation ecosystem.”

Conference Chairman

FRONTIERS
HEALTH

A rich Legacy and a deep sense of ownership

FRONTIERS HEALTH GLOBAL CONFERENCE IS MORE THAN JUST AN EVENT, IT'S A MOVEMENT

- For the past decade, we've united the world's brightest minds and boldest innovators in health and life sciences, creating a dynamic space where groundbreaking ideas emerge, meaningful connections take shape, and the future of health is forged.
- Across the years, in true Frontiers Health spirit, we've set the stage for bold predictions, unveiled exclusive previews, and delivered forward-thinking insights through our world-class speaker faculty. These insights have ignited discussions and shaped industry dynamics, influencing both the community and the broader health innovation landscape.
- Staying true to our pioneering nature, we continue to lead key thematic areas that have evolved over the years. From the rise of digital health and digital therapeutics to groundbreaking advancements in translational science and biomedical R&D, we've been at the forefront of AI-driven innovations, paving the way for the future of personalized medicine.

Health meets Innovation

- A highly curated event, gathering ecosystem leaders – founders, C-Suite executives and senior government and academic thought leaders and change makers – to discuss next frontier of innovation in health and life sciences.
- Frontiers Health has emerged as one of the premier global health innovation events, with a strong focus on digital therapies, breakthrough technologies, healthcare transformation, investments, and ecosystem development.
- Practitioners of disruptive health engage in highly inspirational, informative, sometimes controversial sessions and conversations, all intended to provide companies, entrepreneurs, and venture capitalists with a useful roadmap, key insights, top-level learning, and unparalleled networking.

Foundational Pillars

- A frontier is a border between what is known and unknown. At Frontiers Health we look for those that are pushing the boundaries. Gathering the change-makers within large organizations and the entrepreneurs building new ones – all of which are moving the healthcare ecosystem into the future with new and novel solutions. Our content strategy embodies this ethos.
- Frontiers Health content is built upon a foundation of four key strategic pillars. Every keynote, fire side chat, panel or deep dive we bring to our audience each year ladders up to at least one or more of these areas.

What are Merck Healthcare doing in Digital Health and AI? >>

At Frontiers Health, Merck outlined how they are reshaping their identity from traditional pharma to a science, data, and technology driven organisation. Key initiatives include:

- Integrating digital interventions with their medicines, moving toward drug + algorithm combinations as a core model
- Driving a company-wide digital transformation, now led by a CEO who previously served as CIO to anchor technology at the centre of the business
- Rolling out LLMs and advanced AI across the organisation to enable more predictive and intelligent decision-making
- Setting strict internal gates for digital products, they must be globally scalable and show real adoption by teams, HCPs, or patients
- Building an intrapreneurial culture to speed up decision-making, including bringing in private-equity and entrepreneurial talent
- Creating a dedicated framework for startup collaboration, designed to avoid slow corporate cycles and support long-term strategic partnerships
- Expanding ecosystem partnerships with tech companies, HCPs, health systems, and regulators as a core part of their execution model

Thanks to Emre Ozcan, PhD and Alessandro De Luca for sharing

Last week's Frontiers Health Conference in Berlin reinforced something I've long believed: the challenges we face in making digital health a permanent modality of care are remarkably consistent across borders. Globally, we're confronting an urgent mismatch between supply and demand in healthcare delivery. The good news? The evidence demonstrating digital health's value continues to strengthen. However,
